E BLOOM 1961 Chicago Heights, Illinois

With a genial smile, Dr. Harold H. Metcalf, superintendent, offers his guiding hand to every student, teacher, and worker seeking it. As administrator of Bloom's policies, he had been personally concerned with developing good citizens and instilling greater pride in the school. It is under his able guidance that Bloomites are pointed to their future successes.

Here is our BLOOM. . . a campus of many and varied interests. Its broad curriculum, well-qualified faculty, and wide range of extra-curricular activities make our comprehensive high school one of the outstanding educational institutions in the nation and prepare us for our vocations and avocations.

Thus . . . Bloom's importance to us is that of an arrow . . . a guide to a successful future.

These social affairs help to build school spirit through our working together on projects of mutual interests. They develop in us a social awareness that points to good citizenship in the future

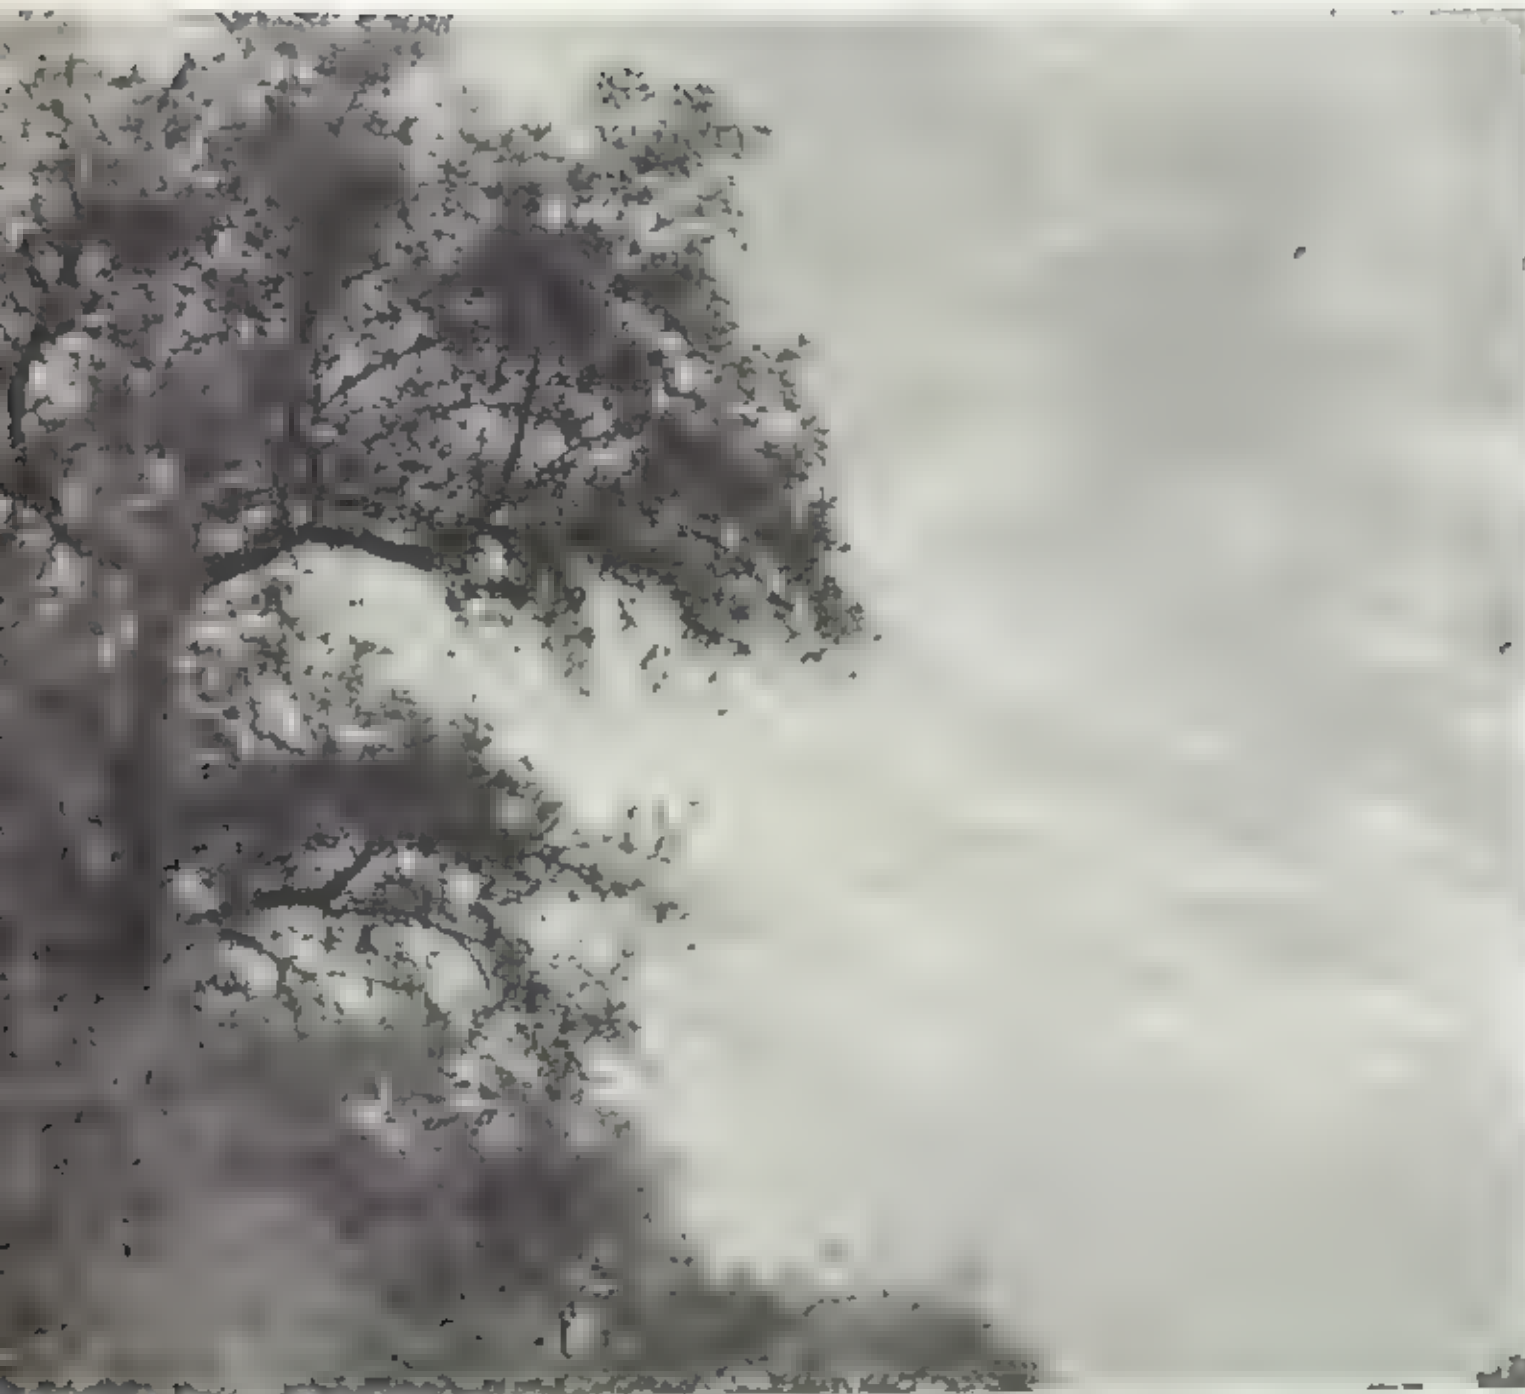

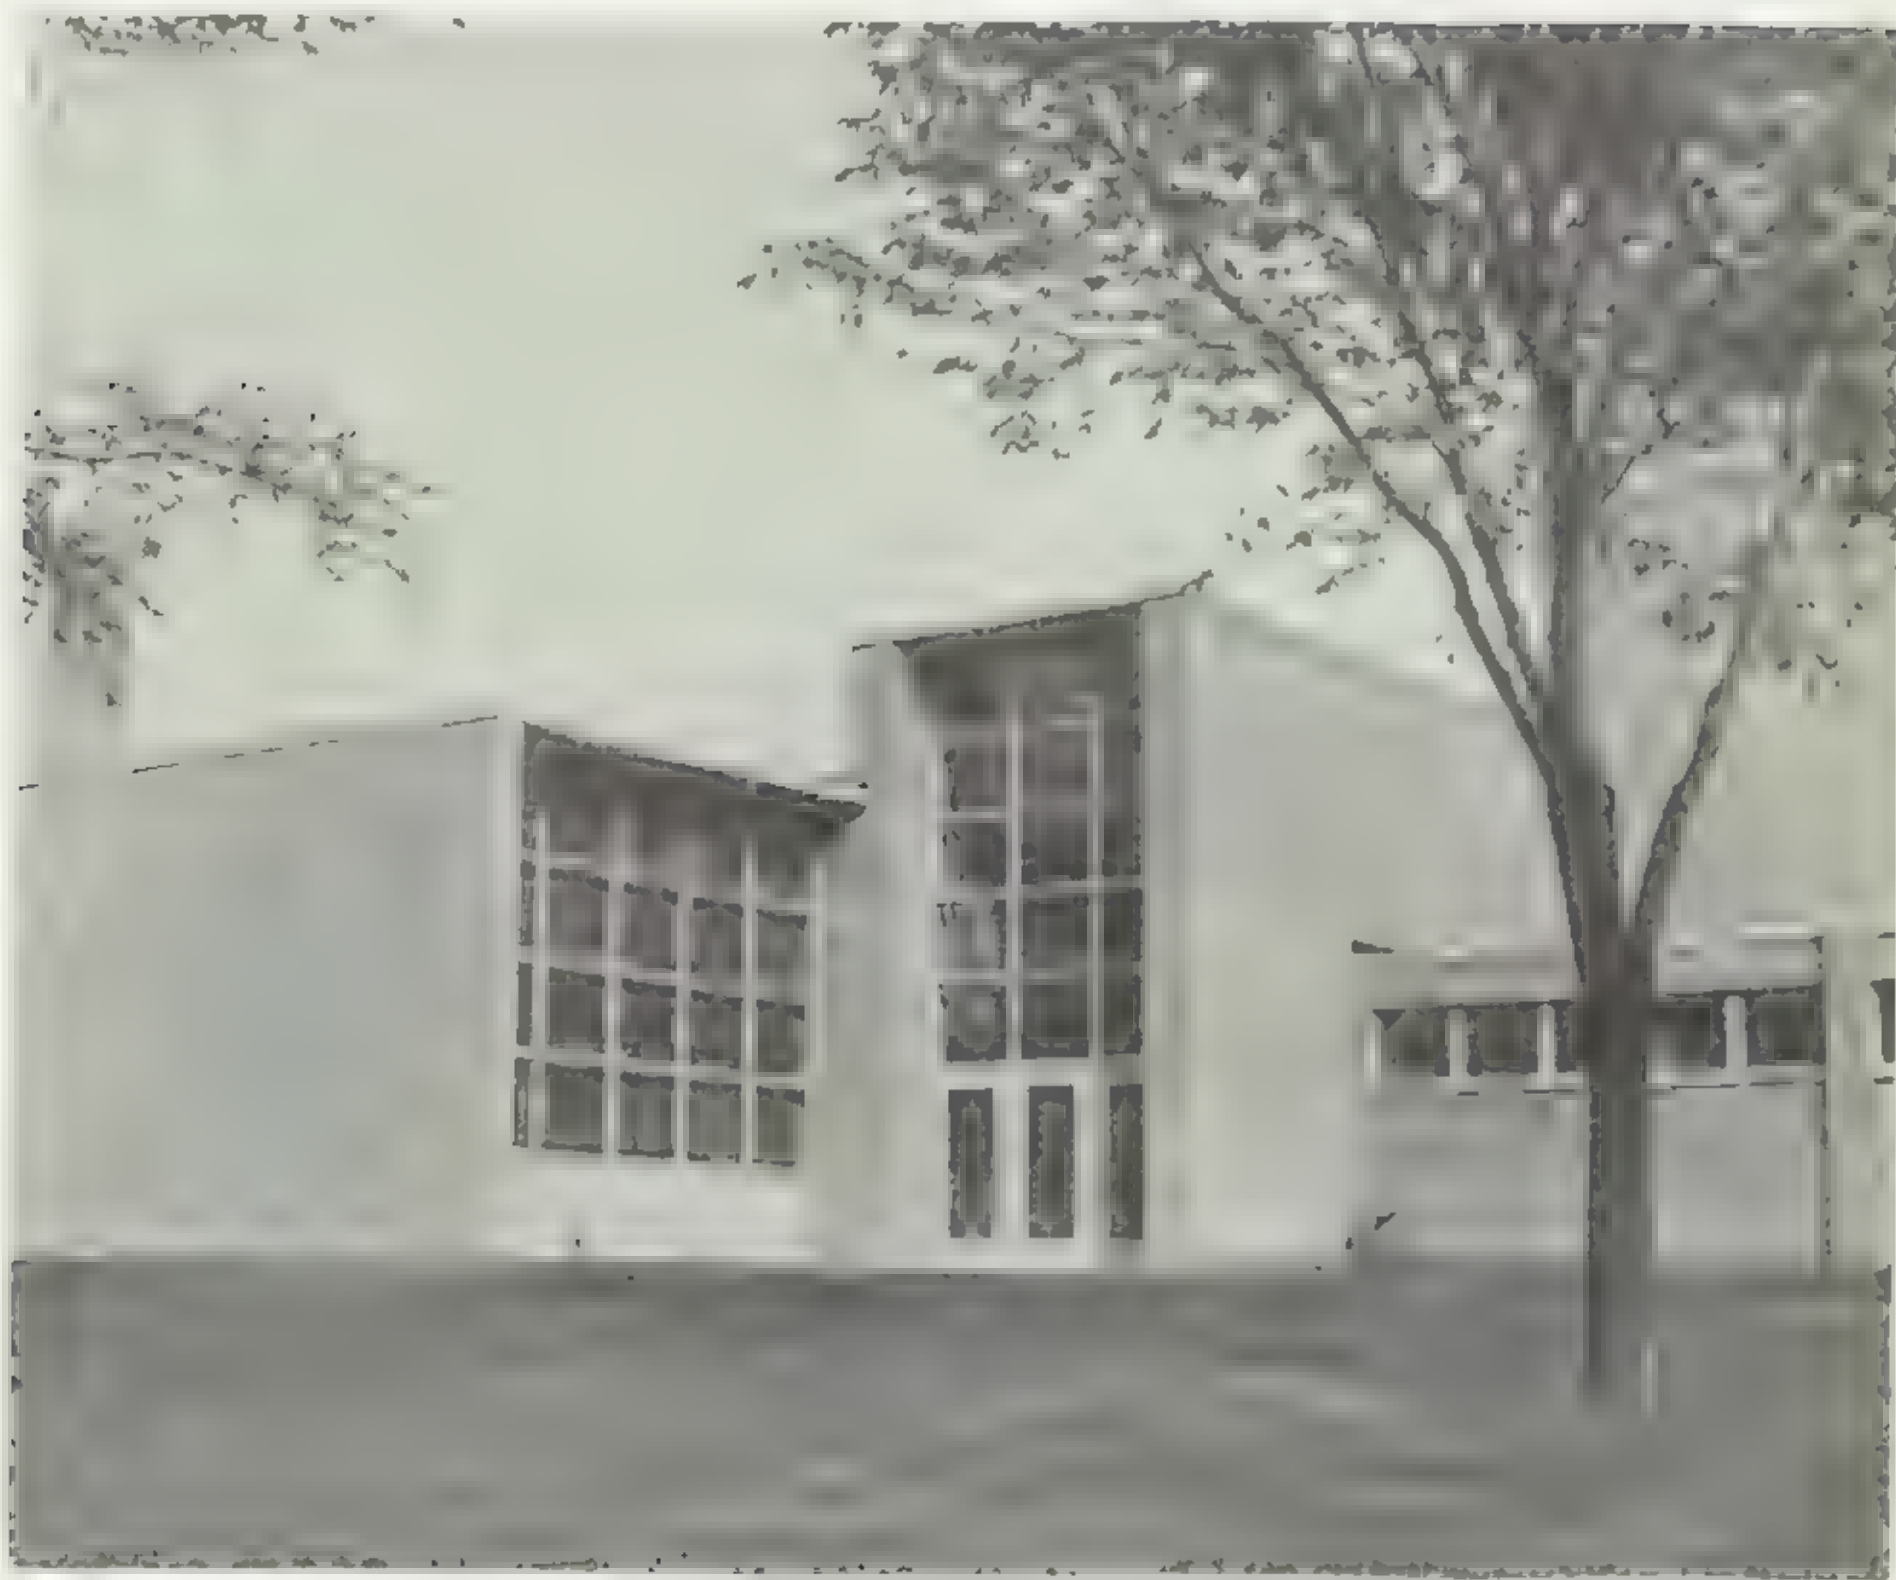

BLOOM LIFE

The

*Spring and winter scenes on

Activities of Bloom Life

Falling leaves, snow drifts, and soft rains signify not only the changing seasons but also the varying activities at Bloom.

As the green leaves of summer turn red, gold and brown and begin to fall into deep, crunching piles, the students look forward to the first football game of the year, to the Peporama parade, Parents' night, the Homecoming Dance, and soccer, field hockey, and football in physical education classes.

With the advent of winter's icy breath at the last football games, everyone looks forward to the warm, often over-heated gym at basketball games, to the concerts, and the numerous Christmas parties given by the school's organizations.

The stark outline of bare-limbed trees makes a dreary frame for the numerous, lively winter sports, parties, and other extra-curricular activities which fill the hours of the students.

With spring's approach heralded by showers and blossoms the whole outlook of Bloom changes. Thoughts turn toward the outdoors and summer vacation, the annual Turnabout Dance, baseball, outdoor track, the Junior-Senior Prom and graduation.

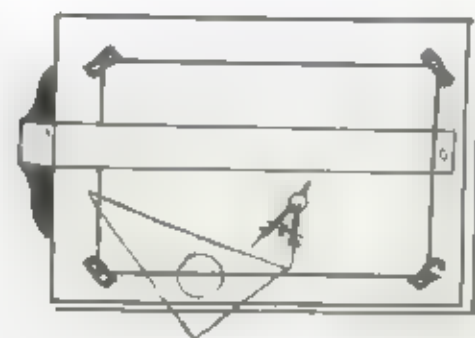

The underclassmen look forward to a summer's vacation and another year at Bloom, while the seniors prepare for baccalaureate, graduation, and their future.

Each season has its own events, its own sports, dances, and concerts. All departments offer some aspect of them, including the music department, the English department, the physical education department, and the student council. These events vary with the weather.

Math, Science Courses Develop

Operating the console in the newly installed language laboratory is Miss Gioannini.

Mr. Calacci approvingly watches Gloria Veldhuizen and Willie Smalzer as they display a poster to their Latin II classmates.

Social Studies Arouse Interest

Roderick Chulders and Marianne Jerabek point out the important areas in the colonial period of the United States during their American history class.

Mr. Campbell employs the psychological method of promoting a friendly relationship between the teacher and students in conducting his psychology class.

Mr. Hill's personal and family living class is "wide-eyed and alert" as they gaze intently at the movies being shown to them by their teacher.

Music Extends Cultural Interests

In the above picture the Orchestra is practicing for the Senior class play. This organization, directed by Mr. Robert Hippensteel, also accompanies the choir at the Christmas Vespers, and has at least one concert of its own during the year.

Beginning and accomplished musicians are all part of Bloom's vast music department. Throughout the year the various groups, including the cadet and concert band, beginning and concert orchestra, freshmen chorus, girls' and boys' glee clubs, boys' and girls' choirs, and a capella choir, present a number of programs.

Highlighting the department's activities were participation in concerts, parades, the Baccalaureate ceremony and graduation, and the Christmas Vespers.

In addition, a number of the members of the department were involved in the senior class play, "Kiss Me Kate". Faculty members who lead the groups are Mrs. Jean Workman, Mr. Einar Cannellin, and Mr. Robert Hippensteel.

Art and Shop Demand Creativity

Mr. Colbrese (far left) instructs students in the use of machinery in the field of electronics.

From the classic artistic endeavor of oil painting to the more utilitarian work of wood craft, the demand for creativity is high at Bloom.

A widely diversified curriculum is offered to Bloom students. They are given the opportunity to carry the classic college prep load including foreign language, math, English, laboratory sciences; or preparatory courses in skills for future vocations in metal, woodcraft, auto-mechanics, a business schedule, with typing, shorthand, bookkeeping or a combination of the three.

Thus they are able to inquire into each type of learning and better decide which to choose.

Mr. Hubacek explains the intricacies of the wood working machinery.

Vocational Arts Prepare Students

As part of the home economics program Barbara Sternquast practices nursing techniques on Pat Frecowski. Bloom's comprehensive home-making department also includes home-furnishing, nourishment, and child care classes

While a timing test occupies Miss Altis' first year typing students she busily corrects papers. The business education program offers shorthand, bookkeeping, clerical, and office machines besides typing

Seniors Hail Mom "My Fair Lady"

The Trojanettes, a choral ensemble of nine senior girls, entertain the senior girls and their mothers at the Girls League sponsored Mother-Daughter Banquet.

Linda Champagne, Girls' League president, welcomes the senior girls and their Moms to the annual Mother Daughter banquet, My Fair Lady.

City of Bloom Elects Its Officials

Those elected to serve as City of Bloom officials are shown here as they pin flowers on members of the faculty as part of Carnation Day. Standing are Mayor Pat Parisi and Mr. Alex Feduchas, Commissioner of Welfare Marshall Dunn and Mr. Benjamin Calacci, Commissioner of Public Improvements Sue Sourque and Mr. James Campbell, Commissioner of Social Activities Jennie Petrarca and Miss Elizabeth Berkenkamp, Commissioner of Finance Joe Spada and Mr. James Stechel.

Patterned after the government of the city of Chicago Heights, the City of Bloom contains five elected officials. This governing body consists of a mayor and four commissioners; a commissioner of social activities, public improvement, welfare, and finance.

The mayor presides over student council and each commissioner is responsible to the council for handling the affairs under its commission.

Elections are held in the spring of the year accompanied with much fanfare and excitement. This year the students' choices were Pat Parisi, mayor; Jennie Petrarca, social activities; Joe Spada, finance; Sue Bourque, public improvement; and Marshall Dunn, welfare.

Exodus

This verse, the motto of the American Field Service, is the phrase most quoted by Sue Bourque, Bloom's A. F. S. student to Brazil, while explaining the purpose of the world-wide program.

While participating in this program last summer, Sue lived in Bel Horizonte, Brazil, with the family of Dr. de Barros and learned to understand their customs, problems, and viewpoints.

Sue's travels in Brazil took her to Rio de Janeiro, parts of the interior, and to the new, ultra-modern capital, Brasilia.

Since her return Sue has given numerous talks and showed her slides, heightening students' awareness and strengthening their understanding of their South American neighbors.

This experience has developed in Sue deep respect for the ingenuity and potential the Brazilian people possess and inspired hopes that friendship between the United States and Brazil will be strong and long-standing.

student from Australia, with her American History reading assignments.

Two Exchange Students

Aside from the slight differences between Australia and America noted by this year's American Field Service exchange student, she feels that the two countries are basically the same. Judy Beckenham, a titian-haired Australian from Sydney, attributes the similarity between the two nations to their common British heritage and to the fact that they are both young and growing.

Judy, who came from a small family of two sisters, acquired eight more sisters and brothers when she arrived at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Bourque, the parents of Bloom's summer exchange student to Brazil, Sue Bourque, commissioner of public improvements.

This acquisition of a sizably larger family, the transition from a small all-girls school to a large co-educational institution, and the necessity of getting used to our colder climate—the temperature around Sydney seldom gets below 45 degrees—did not prove to be much of a problem, and within a very short while she felt right at home. She made numerous friends quickly with her soft, cheery British accent, sparkling eyes, expressive hands, and friendly disposition.

The understanding and relationship between Australians and Americans who Judy believes are so much alike in thoughts, purposes, and ideals, was greatly strengthened during her year at Bloom.

Assemblies Entertain and Educate

A representative of General Motors described tools and products of the future in one of the educational assemblies held this year.

Jamboree Creates Carnival Spirit

An irate student seems to be berating "those sneaky junior hawkers" for what she considers an inadequate pull from the Fish pond.

Pizza booths, spook houses, telegrams, lucky leis, these are several of the important ingredients that went into making a successful Junior Jamboree. This all-school party, given by the Junior class for the student body, affords the class a chance to earn money for the Junior-Senior prom that they sponsor. Under the guidance of President Bill Parisi and Miss Vivian Sturtevant, class sponsor, the class was able to raise over $600 from this affair.

Once known as the Junior Penny Social, the Jamboree was held in the Girls' big gym, with a dance floor in the adjoining gym. A crowd of 1500 happy kids attended the event.

Senior Class Production of "Kis

Hallie Manske watches Dave Burdett and Richard Gerardi practice falling with the aid of Paul Rosen as rehearsal for the senior class play gets underway.

"Get thee hence," commands Mark Walton to the puzzlement of Bill Maltby and Marshall Dunn as they portray the roles of two gangsters in "Kiss Me Kate".

The first dance rehearsal of the "Tarentella" appears rather chaotic as Dennis Bartolomei, Bill Jacobs, Gary Wilson, Susan Cole, Lorraine Zeman, Sandra Goetzl, and Cheryl Bilinski begin a series of intricate steps.

"Kiss Me Kate" Is a Smashing Success

In the outstanding tradition of "Oklahoma" and "Brigadoon", the 1961 Senior Class Play "Kiss Me Kate" was a smashing success. It moved along with unflagging speed and never relaxed its fun-filled pace for a moment.

"Kiss Me Kate's" demanding leading roles were handled by its near-professional principal characters. Hallie Manske, Jacquie Johnson, Mark Walton, and Dennis Martin.

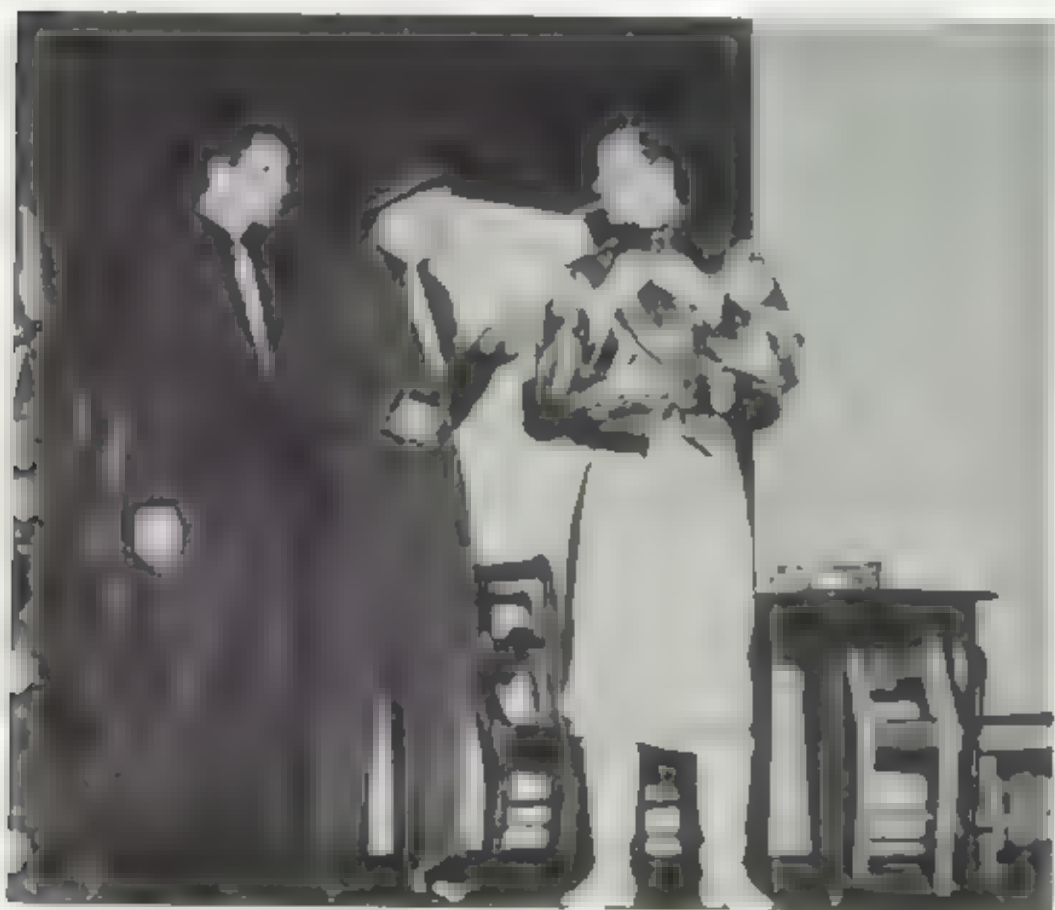

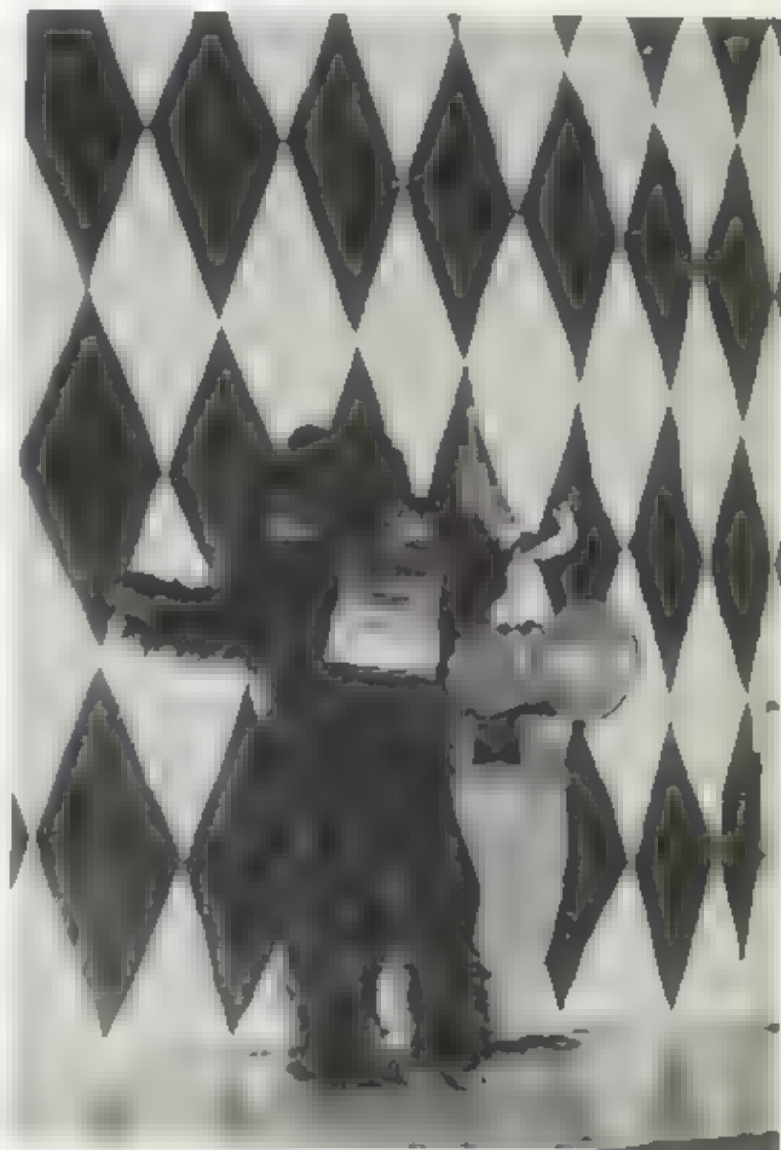

Hallie, as Lilli Vanessi and the shrew Katherine, was nothing short of terrific. Her untamed kicks and scratches, aimed at her leading man Mark Walton, might have made a lesser man tremble; but Mark, as Petruchio, faced the screaming shrew without qualm. He, also, was outstanding in his role.

Jacquie Johnson, as flirtatious Lois "Bianca" Lane, was, in simple terms, a "knockout." Dennis Martin's portrayal of Bill Calhoun was also beautifully done.

(right) A gay interlude in the Padua Street Scene, as a grizzly bear, Joe Gonzales, balances a bird cage lightly on his finger tips.

(below) Two gangsters, portrayed by Bill Maltby and Marshall Dunn, are trying to "jostle the memory of Fred Graham," portrayed by Mark Walton, concerning an outstanding debt.

(to the right) Mark Walton and Hallie Manske sing "Wunderbar" in a moment of romantic reminiscence during a practice run-through of the senior class play.

Below, is a sweeping view of many of the couples who attended the Prom of 1960. Dan Beloc's band supplied the music for the dance and afterward there was a post-prom party held.

"Winter Wonderland"

Classmates, former classmates, and companions were welcomed to "Winter Wonderland," the annual Homecoming dance. Surrounded by glistening snowflakes, accentuated with frost-bitten trees and completed with a snowman, the couples danced to the music of Dick Carlton's orchestra. As the hour approached eleven, the tenseness of the evening reached its peak and the time was near to choose the king and queen of Homecoming.

Joe Spada and Jennie Petrarca were chosen from the court of eight and the traditional crowns were presented. To add the final touch to the festivities, the Homecoming court was drawn to the platform by an old-fashioned sleigh.

Choir Serenades Senior Class

With each step of the Class Day Processional the members of the senior class of 1960 advanced nearer to their goals. As they assembled with their classmates for the last time before graduation, the experience of the past four years already seemed dimmed and faded as they paraded through their thoughts. The games, assemblies, morning announcements, homerooms, classes, tests, were fast becoming a jumbled part of their memory, a never to be entirely forgotten part of their lives.

One of their goals would soon be achieved, a high-school diploma. As the various members separate to carry on their individual plans, the influence of Bloom's faculty, administration, and curriculum will be ever-present. These had become over the four years an integral part of their personalities.

As the memories of high school dim, the expectations, ambitions and plans of the future became more distinct and attainable. Having achieved one goal serves as the incentive to achieve others. To some graduates the prize is a job, to others a more extensive education or perhaps marriage.

While on Graduation a certain amount of the program given is based on the past, the majority of the time is connected with the future. A will is drawn up to leave a humorous inheritance to those to follow. A prophecy is written to give a prediction of the future lives of the graduates. The speakers refer to the coming experiences to be had by the class.

It is on this day that the class takes its last step through the doors of Bloom and faces the future.

"I heard the trailing garments of the night sweep through her marble halls"

Longfellow

Here are the ACTIVITIES, the extension of our curricular and extracurricular interests. The many clubs, music groups, publications, and other organizations at Bloom help to broaden our knowledge and to give us opportunities to develop hobbies.

Aided by faculty sponsors, these groups spend many hours during study periods and after school exploring their varied interests.

Thus these activities help to mold us into well rounded students and point us to a successful future.

Induction into the National Honor Society is the highest academic honor that can be bestowed upon a Bloom junior or senior. Selection is based on scholarship, leadership, service and character.

To receive this honor a junior must have maintained a 3.5 grade average, while seniors must have maintained a 3.0 average to be eligible.

A candle-light induction ceremony is held in the early spring for the new members. At graduation exercises senior members of this scholastic honorary society are denoted by their NHS cords.

Officers of the National Honor Society are Ron Reynolds; president, Rich Gerardi, vice-president; Charlotte Werth, secretary; and Steve Cohen, treasurer. The Bloom chapter is sponsored by Mrs. Edna North.

Juniors or seniors who rank in the upper third of their class scholastically, have been active on Bloom publication staffs, have been recommended by the editors and advisors and are approved by the executive secretary of the Society are eligible for membership in the Quill and Scroll Society.

This year 15 members of The Broadcaster, The Bloom Annual, and The Tower were inducted to bring the total membership to 22.

Miss Betty House is sponsor of the Bloom Chapter of this organization.

To make the literary work of the students available for all to read is the purpose of The Tower, Bloom's literary magazine.

Each year the staff, aided by the sponsors Miss Dorothy Loyd and Mr. James Stevens, examines the material submitted and accept the work high in literary quality.

Organized in 1911, the publication ranks high in student interest which is indicated by the many pieces submitted.

Prospective Journalists Boos

Choosing a theme, recording events, planning page layouts, and identifying people are among the activities involved in the planning and preparation of The Bloom, school yearbook.

Much time is spent in creating the prize-winning publication. Although the yearbook does not come out until late in the spring, the staff begins planning it before school begins in the fall. The 15 members of the staff relinquish their study halls to meet eighth hour each day. They also spend many hours after school (with pizza, of course) harried and rushed trying to meet overdue deadlines.

Guided by Miss Betty House, editorial adviser; Mr. George Hamlin, photography adviser; and Mr. Barton Herr, financial adviser, they compile a memorable record of Bloom life.

Interest Through Publications

Like the city room of a metropolitan newspaper, room 311 is the bustling center of the activities of The Broadcaster staff. Meeting there seventh hour every day, the members of the staff gain practical experience in gathering news, making up pages, and proofreading.

Preparing a bi-weekly newspaper which meets the standards set by The Broadcaster in past years has kept the staff busy. Rated among the top student publications in the United States, it has received the Quill and Scroll, George Gallup, and International Honor awards and the NSPA All-American rating for many years. The staff is aided by Miss Betty House, adviser; and Mr. Roger Atz, financial adviser.

Drama, Colloquium Explore Arts

To stimulate an appreciation and understanding of the cultural areas of art, music, literature, and philosophy is the main objective of Colloquium. Lectures, informal and formal discussions, and field trips centered around these subjects are the activities of the group.

"Our programs are not only aimed at presenting information which will enable the members to discuss the topics intelligently, but the programs also impress upon them the importance of these subjects to their minds and spirits," explained Mr. F. Miller, club sponsor.

Groups Discuss World Problems

To promote better understanding among the various ethnic groups at Bloom is the primary purpose of Bloom's Human Relations Committee.

HRC, as its members refer to it, meets at the members' homes to discuss problems of race or religion.

Each year the committee plans and presents the Brotherhood Week activities. This year Dr. Edward Olsen, associate director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, was the guest speaker. Also a Brotherhood essay contest was promoted by the committee, sponsored by Miss Margaret Norman.

To stimulate interest in the physical structure of the United Nations and to investigate the effects that certain events have on the United Nations is the purpose of Bloom's U.N. club.

Meeting twice each month, the group discusses world affairs, current events, and hears guest speakers.

Something new this year was the Brotherhood Week essay contest run in conjunction with brotherhood-week activities.

Students are able to gain a broader knowledge of German language and customs through Bloom's German club. Through this extension of a curricular interest in German, the members can aid and embellish their learning of the subject.

Sponsored by Mrs. Martha Wallace, the group supplements regular meetings with films, guest speakers, games, and songs of the country. The annual puppet show highlighted the year's activities.

For the past two years, the Spanish club has emphasized service as a continuing project. Through their work with migrants, members are given the opportunity to use Spanish in real-life situations. Bloom's Spanish club is the only high school group that holds a membership in the South Cook County Council for Migrants.

The club members also helped to furnish books and uniforms for a Scout troop, most of the scout members being of Latin-American background.

Parle-vous francais? Students interested in France and French customs as well as those taking French may join Le Cercle Francaise, Bloom's French club.

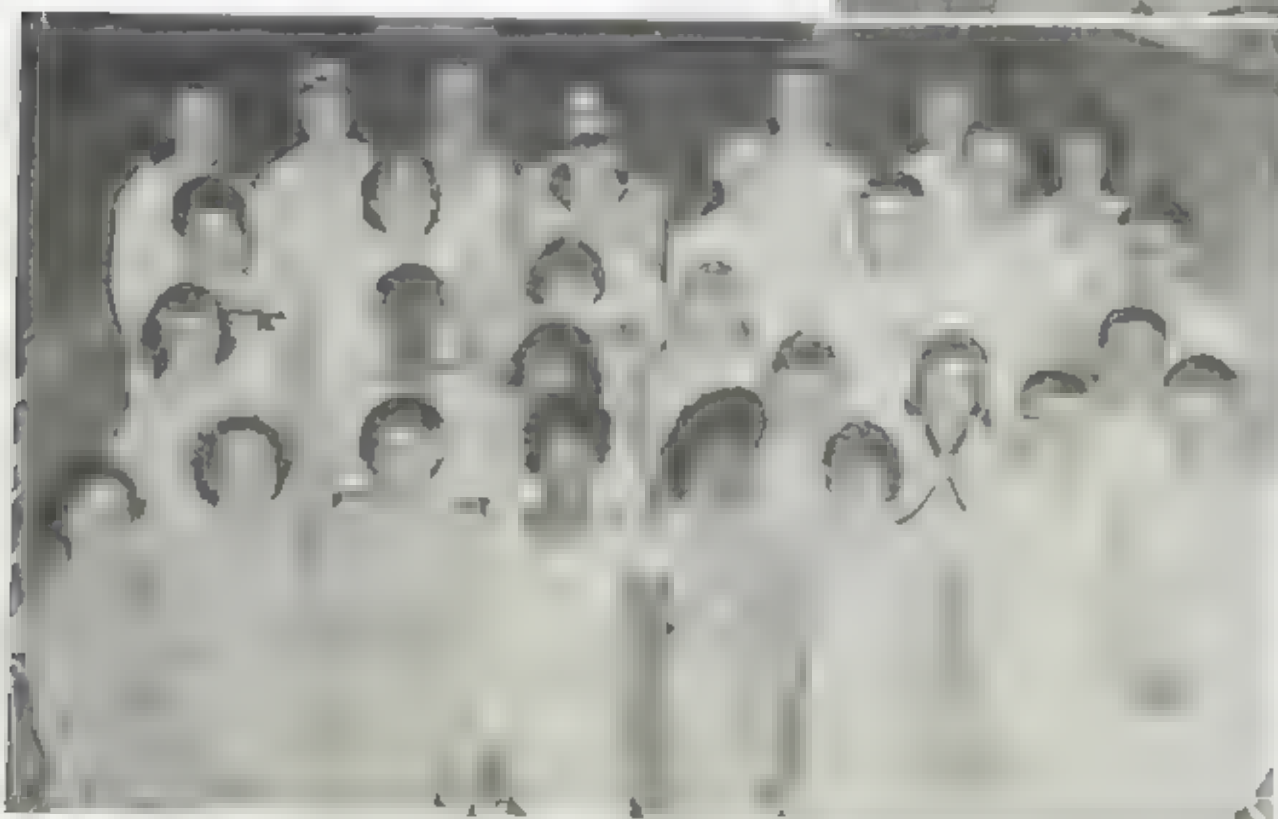

At the meetings, which are held once a month, the members play games, sing songs, view slides, or hear speakers. Each year the annual Christmas party and spring puppet show highlight the group's activities.

The extension of the curricular interests of Latin students is offered by Bloom's Latin club.

The regular meetings were highlighted by a Christmas party and a spring picnic. The major event of the year was the annual Latin banquet at which students get the opportunity to eat and dress as the ancient Romans. Club sponsor is Miss Annette Gioannini.

Mr. Robert Hippensteel is shown here giving help to the string section of the orchestra. All the sections receive personal attention in turn.

Orchestra Members Strive for

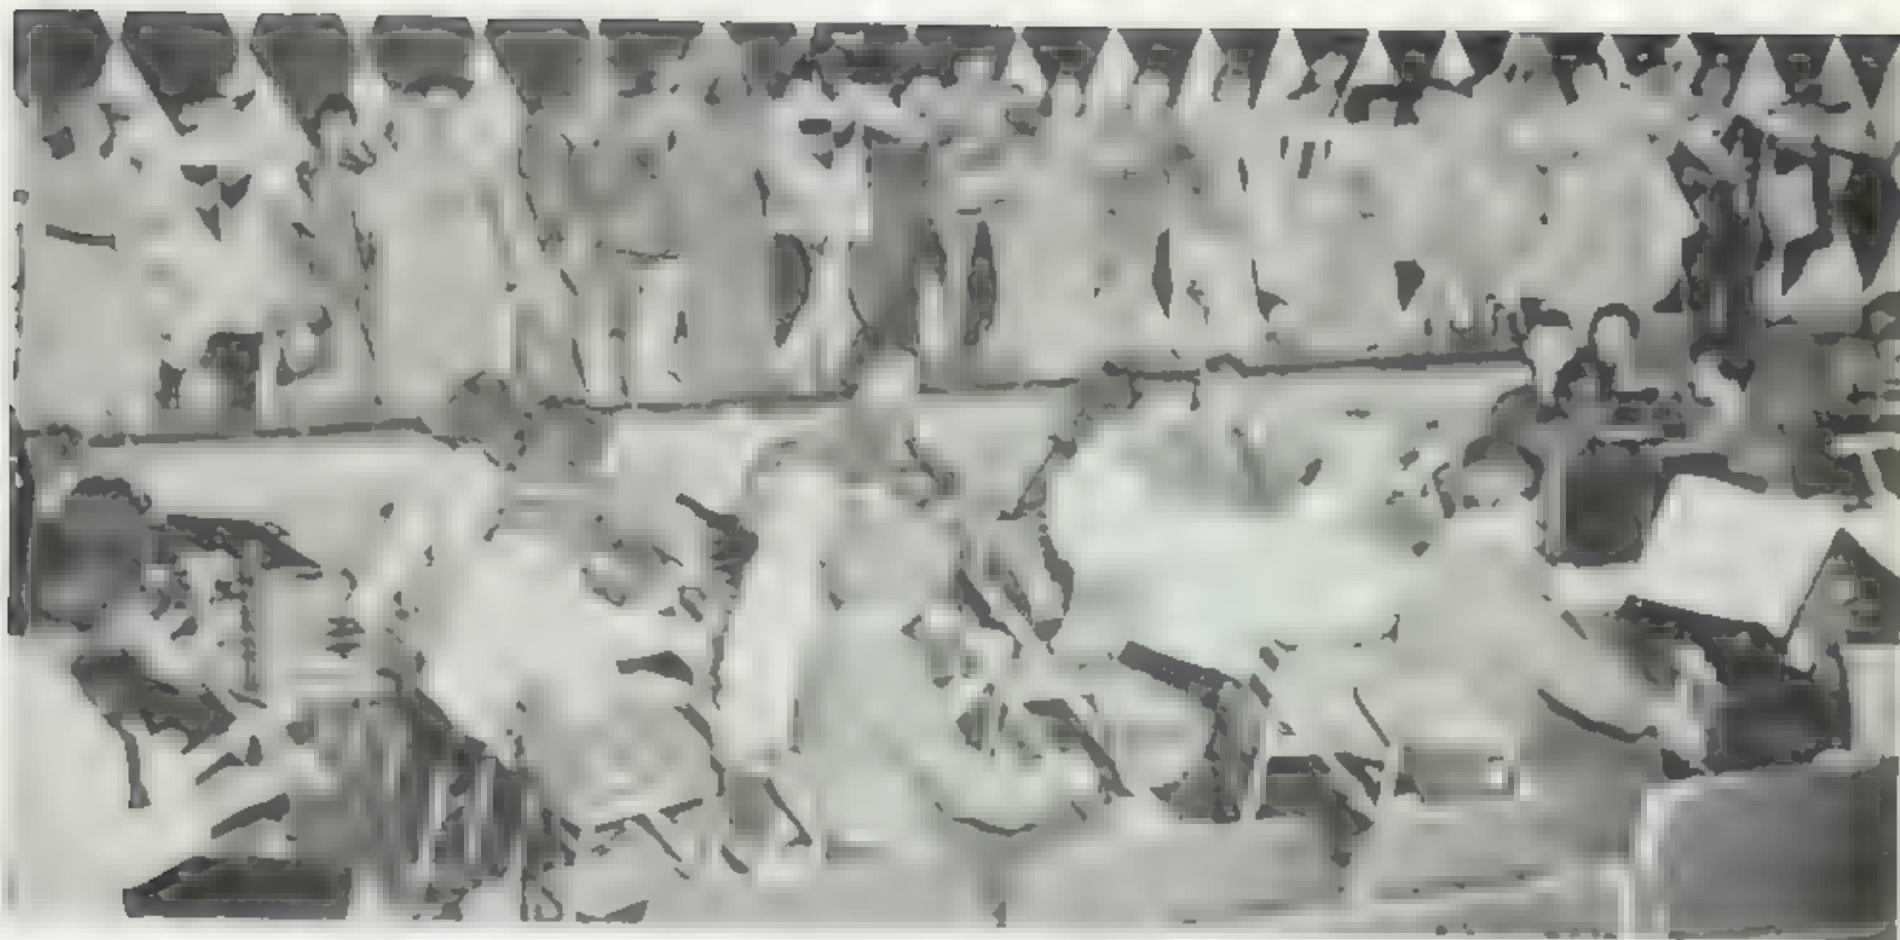

Concert Orchestra

With its renditions of cantatas, symphonies, and suites, the Concert Orchestra disproved the popular image of the finger snapping, gum chewing, rocking teen-ager.

Devoted to enriching the appreciation of serious music at Bloom, this musical group entertained both the public and the students with its appearances at the annual Christmas and Spring concerts and various school assemblies. Showing versatility, the orchestra provided the musical background for the senior class play, "Kiss Me, Kate."

Members of the group relinquished their study halls in order to practice eighth hour under the baton of Mr. Robert Hippensteel

The orchestra plays for many school activities and outside performances. Here it is shown playing for the senior class play, "Kiss Me, Kate."

Bands Develop Comprehension

Spirited marches and classical overtures are both part of the repertoire of the versatile Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Einar Cannelin.

Invitations to march in the Northwestern University Homecoming and the televised LaGrange Pet parades provide memorable experiences for the band members. In addition to providing half-time entertainment at the football games, the band marches in city parades.

Highlighting this year's activities was a music festival held at Bloom, in which all bands in the school district participated.

Two members, Nancy Hampton and Edward Zentera, will tour Europe as members of the First All-American High School Band this summer.

Appreciation and Skill in Music

To develop their musical abilities so that they may join the Concert Band is the main goal of the members of the Cadet Band, directed by Mr. Einar Cannellin.

The group gained experience in marching in the local Christmas parade, LaGrange and Memorial Day parades, and at the last football game.

Bloom as Singing Ambassadors

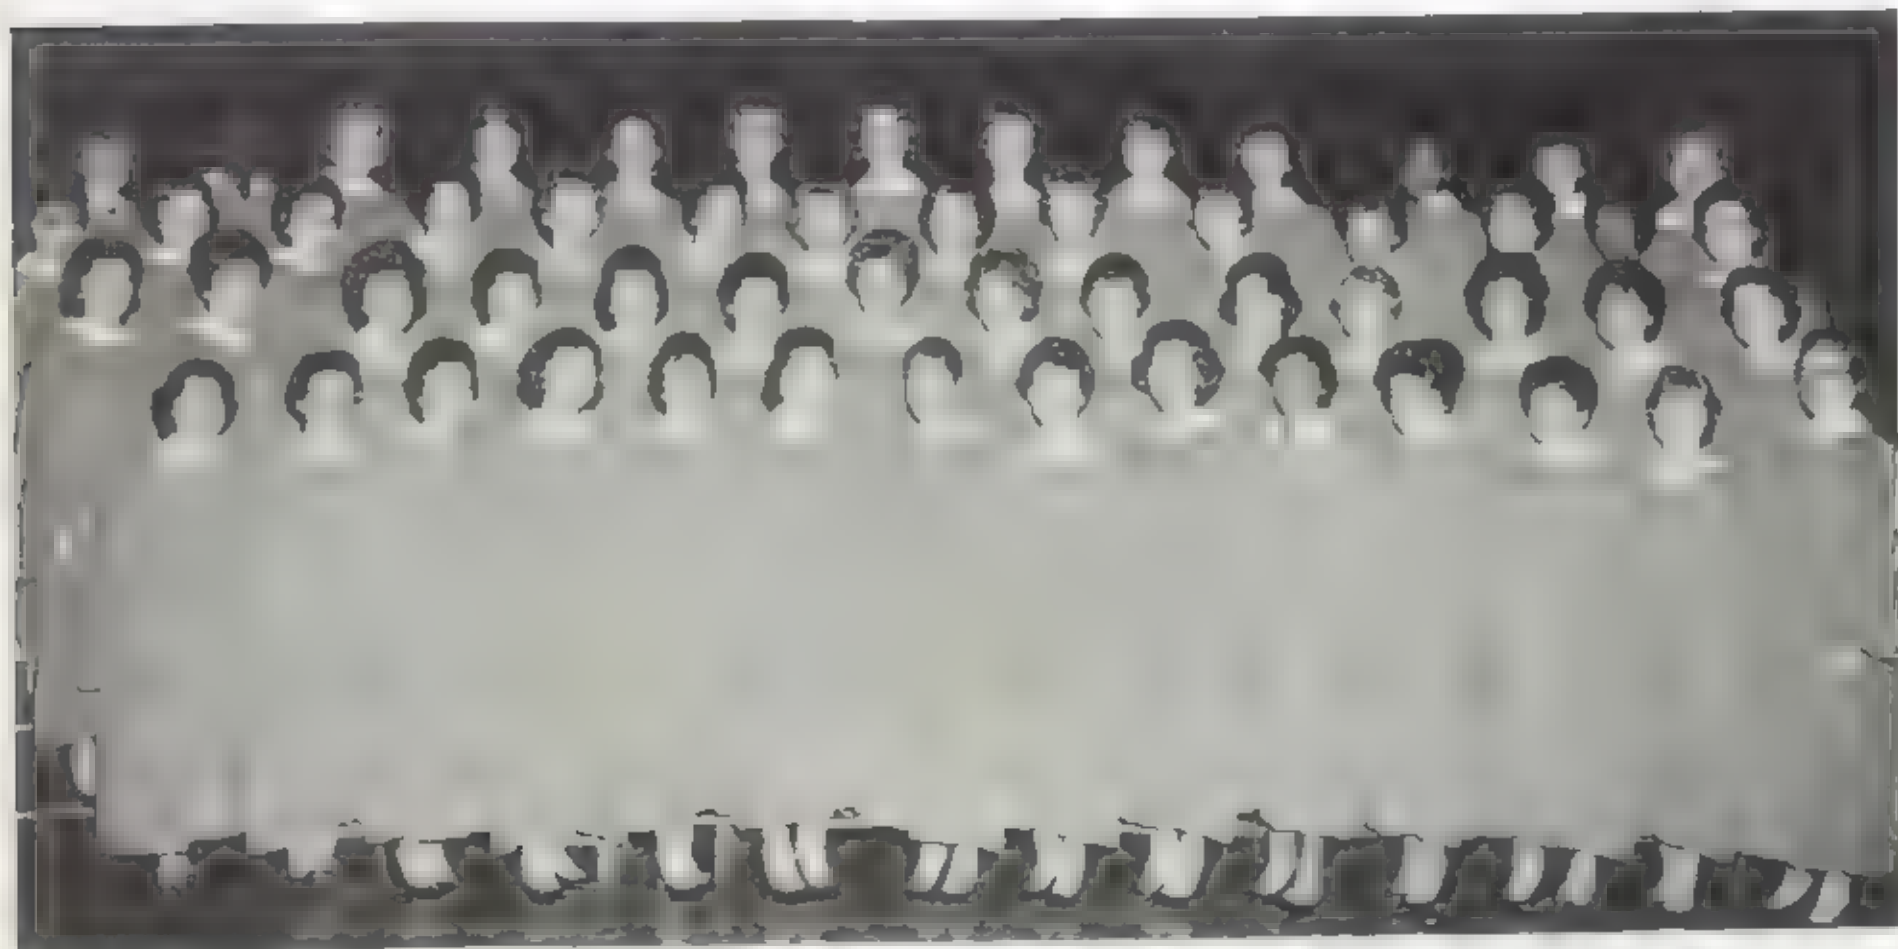

Mrs. Workman

Musical perfection is the goal of the A Cappella Choir composed of students who have received two or three years of training in the other school choruses.

Every practice during fifth and sixth periods prepare the members for their performances in assemblies, the school concerts and other school functions. The choir members compose the choruses and take other singing parts in the senior class play.

Acting as singing ambassadors for Bloom, the choir members and Mrs. Joan Workman, their director, represent their school at various community events. Among these are meetings of the Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions clubs.

The final step before entering the advanced singing groups such as A Cappella, Trojanettes, and Trojanaires, is taken by members of Boys' Choir and Girls' Choir. The former, under the direction of Mr. Einar Cannelin, experiment in singing hit tunes, ballads and spirituals. The Girls' Choir, under Mrs. Jean Workman work on semi-popular, classical, and modern music.

After perfection of their selections these groups make appearances at school assemblies, concerts, and seasonal music festivals.

With enthusiastic cheers, clapping hands, and rousing songs, the Pep club, pep ambassadors for Bloom, cheer the Trojans on at all football games, basketball games, and pep assemblies. Activities this year were under Pat Wilhelmsen, president and Miss Dziadula, sponsor.

Working for the good of the whole student body, the Lettermen's club provides many useful and helpful services. Among these are ushering at both football games, directing the lines in the cafeteria and many others.

All the members of the club must have earned a varsity or frosh soph letter. Mr. Fred Jacobeit is the faculty sponsor of this fine group of boys.

Student Service Organization

A small crew of five girls make up the service group known as I.E. office assistants. Picking up attendance reports, answering telephone calls, typing, filing, producing ditto work, taking dictation and handling correspondence for teachers in the Industrial Education building are the important tasks that they perform. In addition to this general office work, they also deliver call slips and attendance sheet.

The I.E. Helpers are under the direction of Mr. Nello Petersanti.

An atmosphere of courtesy and friendliness greets visitors as they enter the main building. Responsible for creating this atmosphere in the second floor foyer are the student hosts and hostesses, who are specially selected for this service.

Stationed at their desks in front of the library, it is the duty of these official representatives of Bloom to guide, welcome, and direct all visitors.

Assist in Offices and Halls

Each passing period could well become six minutes of chaos if it were not for the competent directions of the traffic guides. As hall guides, these twenty boys are responsible for keeping order and relieving congestion in the halls and on the stairways.

This service organization is a function of the Student Council. Its members meet every other week to discuss problems that rise and their solutions with their sponsor, Mr. Clayton Smith.

Service is a word that is synonymous with the Girls' League. Devoted to serving others, this organization performs many valuable functions for the school and community.

Among their service projects are donating Christmas baskets for the needy, organizing the Bundle Drive, participating in the Foster Parents' adoption plan, selling popcorn at games, sponsoring the Mother-Daughter banquet, and assigning Big Sisters.

Assisting the officers is an executive board made up of two girls from each class and the sponsors. Mrs. Marjorie Cain, Miss Juanita Schoff, Miss Virginia Tjearen, Mrs. Margaret Ayers, and Mrs. Drusilla Emerson.

Supplementing the daily classwork with interesting and informative films is the service performed by the Projection Staff

In addition to operating and caring for all audio-visual aids equipment, the Projection Staff handles the ordering, scheduling, and cataloguing of films. Sponsored by Mr. Lloyd Richert, the group of 50 projectionists and six typists devote much study and spare time to providing this service.

Students Gain Valuable Experience

Believing that experience is a most efficient teacher, the Photo Club centers its activities around photographing Bloom life for school publications and for the "Chicago Heights Star."

Instructions in the use of cameras and photographic materials, discussions, guest speakers, or films are presented to members at the meetings. Contests provide a special incentive for the club members to develop their picture-taking techniques.

Sponsors, Mr. Marion Hine-line and Mr. Manly Tory, offer the club's members an opportunity to gain knowledge in the art of photography while serving the school.

Station W9PEM, the Amateur Radio club's station, enables the club members to gain first-hand experience in operating "ham" radio stations.

Obtaining an amateur radio license from the federal government is the main objective of the club members. With the assistance of Mr. Dale Lawton, the members study the Morse code and basic radio theory in preparation for acquiring a license.

These "hams" may participate in circuitry designing, experimental work, and the actual building of amateur radio stations. Members who do not have their own equipment are allowed to operate station W9PEM.

Insuring our country's future in space travel is the Rocket club. Under the direction of Mr. B. M. Seaman, the members of the club are provided with a practical, technical, and theoretical knowledge of rockets.

Highlighting the club's activities was its attempt to fire its first rocket, Cretin. In addition to this and several other projects, plans for a two-stage rocket were started. These prospective scientists financed their projects by selling sweet rolls and milk in the cafeteria before school.

Bloomites Discover That Caree

To acquaint its members with the personal and educational requirements for admission to nursing schools is the objective of Bloom's chapter of the Future Nurses of America.

Discussions with representatives from schools of nursing and field trips to various schools of nursing in the area enabled the members to learn of the demands and rewards of their future occupation. Sponsor is Mrs. Thelma Crane, R. N.

To encourage farming as a way of life and to develop leadership in the farmers of tomorrow is the dual purpose of the Future Farmers of America club.

The Bloom chapter of the FFA, under Mr. Edward Mayhew, is comprised of boys who study vocational agriculture in the familiar Blue and White building near the music wing.

Field trips to fairs and farm expositions and local farm industry plants highlighted the year's activities.

Clubs Point to Future Vocations

In anticipation of the ever-growing demand for teachers Bloom's Future Teachers of America chapter is encouraging and informing prospective teachers.

Guest speakers were featured at the monthly meetings and exchange programs with other FTA's were planned by the club and its sponsors, Miss Pauline Douglas and Mr. William Tate.

"Resolved that the United Nations be strengthened significantly." As the National High School Debate Topic for 1960-61, this pertinent problem was argued at practice sessions attended by the club and by other high school debate teams.

To gain experience for this competition, the club meets every Thursday after school, at which time the members discuss controversial subjects.

The club, sponsored by Mr. Dennis Hill, provides an opportunity for interested students to develop speaking ability and to express their opinions.

Here is the SENIOR CLASS . . . the big wheels who have traditionally led in most school activities. They've bopped through reading, 'riting, and 'rithmetic, and now graduation marks the culmination of four years of growing emotionally, gaining experience, and broadening viewpoints.

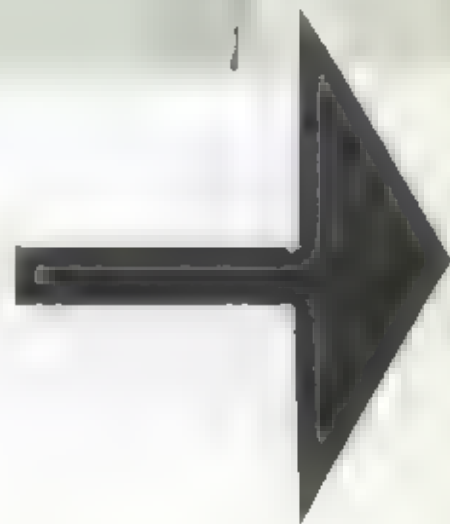

The boys shown here typify the fun-loving seniors who also have their serious side.

Here is the Senior Class . . . pointed straight and true toward the future.

They smile so beguilingly because of the sweatshirts they have gayly draped themselves with. These sweatshirts were one of the class's money making innovations that added considerably to the coffers of the Senior class.

Such a successful senior year was largely due to the hard work of these four people and the fine leadership of Mr. James Campbell, the class sponsor.

As graduation approaches, the seniors are reminiscing over the memories of the four unforgettable years that they spent as the Class of '61. During these years vocations have been decided, experience gained, and friendships cemented.

Highlighting the four years are: exciting elections; memorable dances and parties; the Junior Jamboree; "Sayonara", the junior prom; the senior class play, "Kiss Me Kate"; the senior dinner; baccalaureate; and finally commencement.

This senior class has been led by presidents; Rich Gerardi, Pat Parisi, and Dave Burdett, under the sponsorship of Mr. James Campbell, and with the help of the advisers of the senior homerooms.

As the fourth year draws to a close, the seniors are filled with class pride and a sense of accomplishment. They have formed a strong attachment to Bloom—their "Alma Mater Ever So True."

"You have to give your wrist a little snap," says "Coach Nelson," as he shows Ron Peyser how the "pro's" do it.

Gloria Goncher, Doris Anzelmo, Sue Cole, Connie Dantico, Carol Anderson form an "A" in modern dance class.

Judy Kaufman and Lorraine Zeman "bop-it-up" in "Growing Pains," a skit given at the Mother-Daughter Banquet, "My Fair Lady."

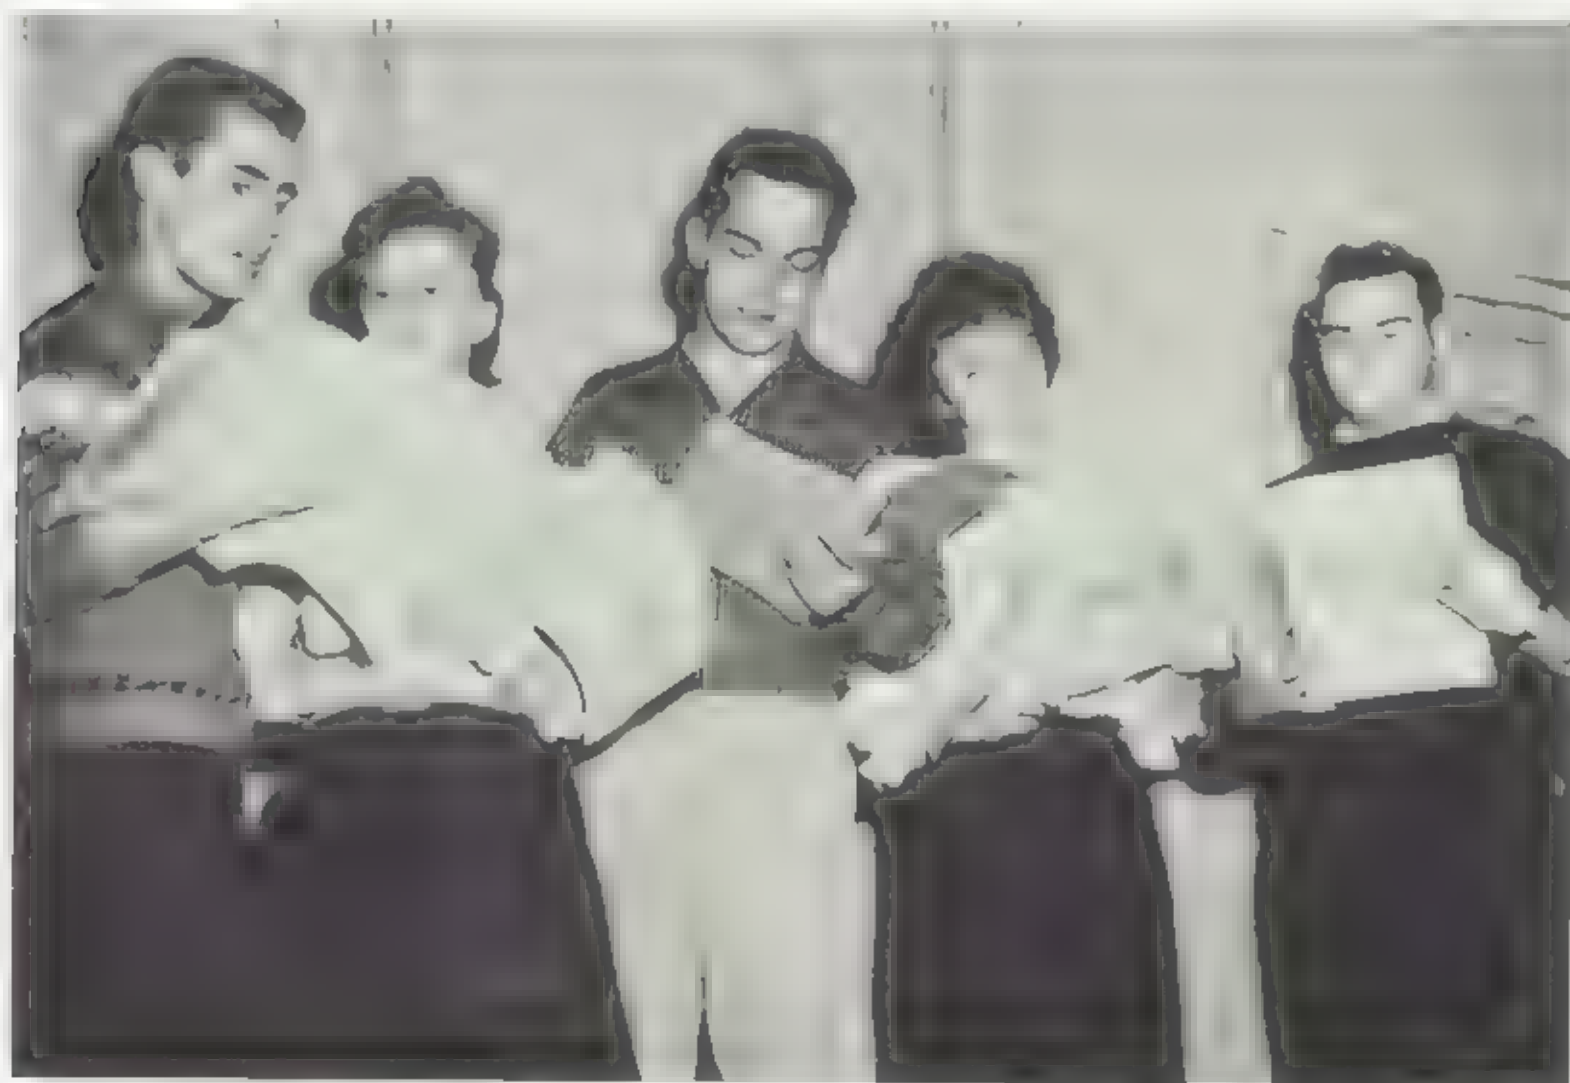

Preparing For Their Future Life

Senior girls, Pat Wilhelmson, Julie Burke, and Lynn Mackler, learn by doing in their Survey of Home making class.

Dave Brewer seeks help concerning his future college plans from Mrs. Marjorie Cain and Mr. Samuel Paravonian, senior counselors.

WE GO.....

Here are the UNDERCLASSMEN . . . the heirs to the legacy left by the departing seniors.

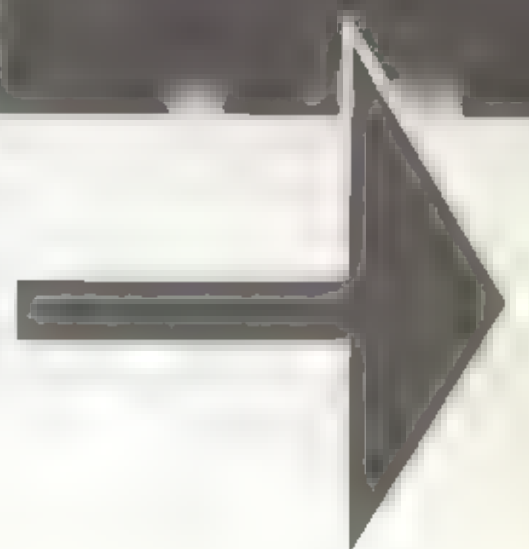

Through their three years of academic training as well as such activities as the freshman mixer, the sophomore class assembly, and the junior prom and jamboree the underclassmen are prepared for what lies ahead.

As freshmen, sophomores, and juniors their immediate future is the senior year, and all their decisions are pointing toward this goal.

Confusion, conviction, and contentment—these three stages marked the sophomore year. The Class of '63 was confused at first, for the members were no longer freshies and weren't yet upper-classmen.

After their initial fears were forgotten, they displayed their enthusiasm in Student Council, on Class Board, and in other activities. They demonstrated their ability to serve Bloom by decorating for commencement, and worked to make their talent assembly a success.

Bewitched, bothered, and bewildered were the key words of the freshman year. During the first few weeks of school the members of the Class of '64 wandered through the halls in awe of the immensity of Bloom.

To acquaint them with the school's activities, the civics classes saw the recently completed orientation film. As they became accustomed to their new surroundings, the freshies got "into the swing of things" by electing Student Council and Girls League representatives.

The football Trojans, hampered by injuries and bad breaks throughout the season, finished their second year under Coach Nick Colbrese with a 3-6 record.

Four of the losses were by one touchdown in games that could have gone either way. Toughest game to lose was to their arch rival the Thornton Wildcats, who won in the last 20 seconds.

The Trojans also won other close games, such as the one in which they topped Joliet 18-12 during the last few minutes of the game.

Four Trojans were chosen for berths on the all-South Suburban league teams, and four others were given honorable mention. Bruce Green made both the offensive and defensive teams at ends and halfback, respectively; co-captains Tom Biel and Bernie Budzik were tackle and guard on offense, respectively; and Bruce Behrens made the defensive team as an inside linebacker.

Guard Bob Snyder, quarterback Rich Tosi, halfback Jim Wilson, and sophomore fullback Elvis Roberts received honorable mention.

Frosh-soph football fortunes at Bloom fell off last season after a championship year in 1959.

Coach Ed Krumm's squad, plagued by injuries and by an influx of freshman gridgers, finished the season with a 1-6-2 record.

Leading the way for the sophs were quarterback Art Oliver, quarterback Bill Sisset, halfback Dwight Dunn, and tackle Bill Helfrich.

Prospects for next season are expected to be brighter, with many recruits coming up from the freshman intramural grid program.

The sophs were victorious against Thornridge, and this win saved them from a cellar finish.

Trojans Tie For Conference Crown

The varsity Trojans picked up from their mediocre 1959-60 season to chalk up a fine 19-6 record and share in the South Suburban league title with Thornton.

Highlight of the regular season was beating rival Thornton twice, 70-69 and 69-62. Both teams finished with 12-2 records in league play.

In the tournaments, Bloom topped Lincoln-Way in a 56-55 thriller to cop the Joliet Regional title. They fell in the Sectional championship game to Thornton 73-58.

Leading the way during the season, both in scoring and in rebounding, was 6' 9" center Ron Peyser. He was given recognition on the first choice all-league team chosen by coaches. The other starters were Ed Moore, Cary Dockery, seniors and Art Oliver, Walt Tiberi, sophomores. Moore and Tiberi were also given all-league recognition.

Beside Tiberi and Oliver, next years returnees include Preston Boudier, Ray LaPorte, Al Collins, Jim Brown, and Rich Conner.

Bloom Frosh-Soph Win Conference

The frosh-soph Trojans finished the season with their second straight South Suburban league title under Coach Tom Deem in as many years.

The sophs finished the year with a 20-3 record and had a 12-2 league mark. They also were champions in the Bradley frosh-soph tourney.

Relying on a lot of freshmen, the sophs started the season with one returning regular, Roy Washington. He was the seasons leading scorer and rebounder.

Other contributors to this fine season were freshmen Bruce Hodges and Len Borwn, the second and third leading scorers, Victor Washington, Len Cole, Walt Kaszubski and another freshman, Eugene Salter.

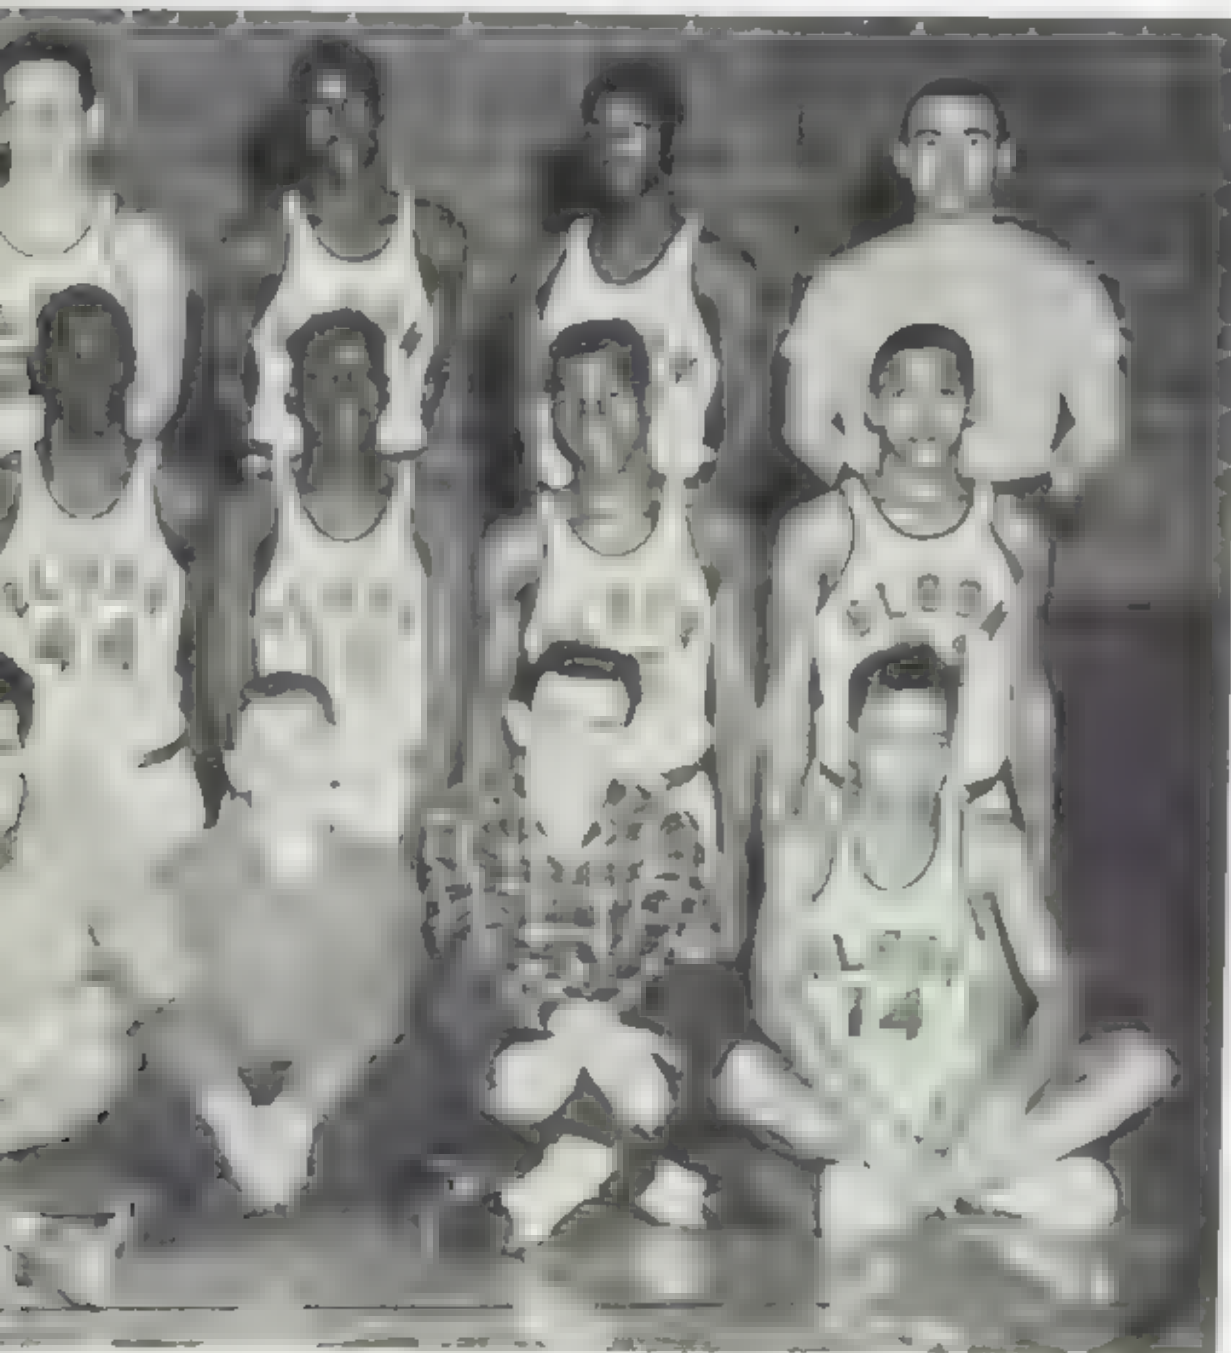

The sophs, behind their quick offense, had an excellent defense, as they outscored their foes 1121 points to 873 for the year. They shot .420 as a team and the opposition had only .313.

For Tough Schedule

With few returning regulars, Coach Fred Jacobeit has drilled the prospects more than usual this spring.

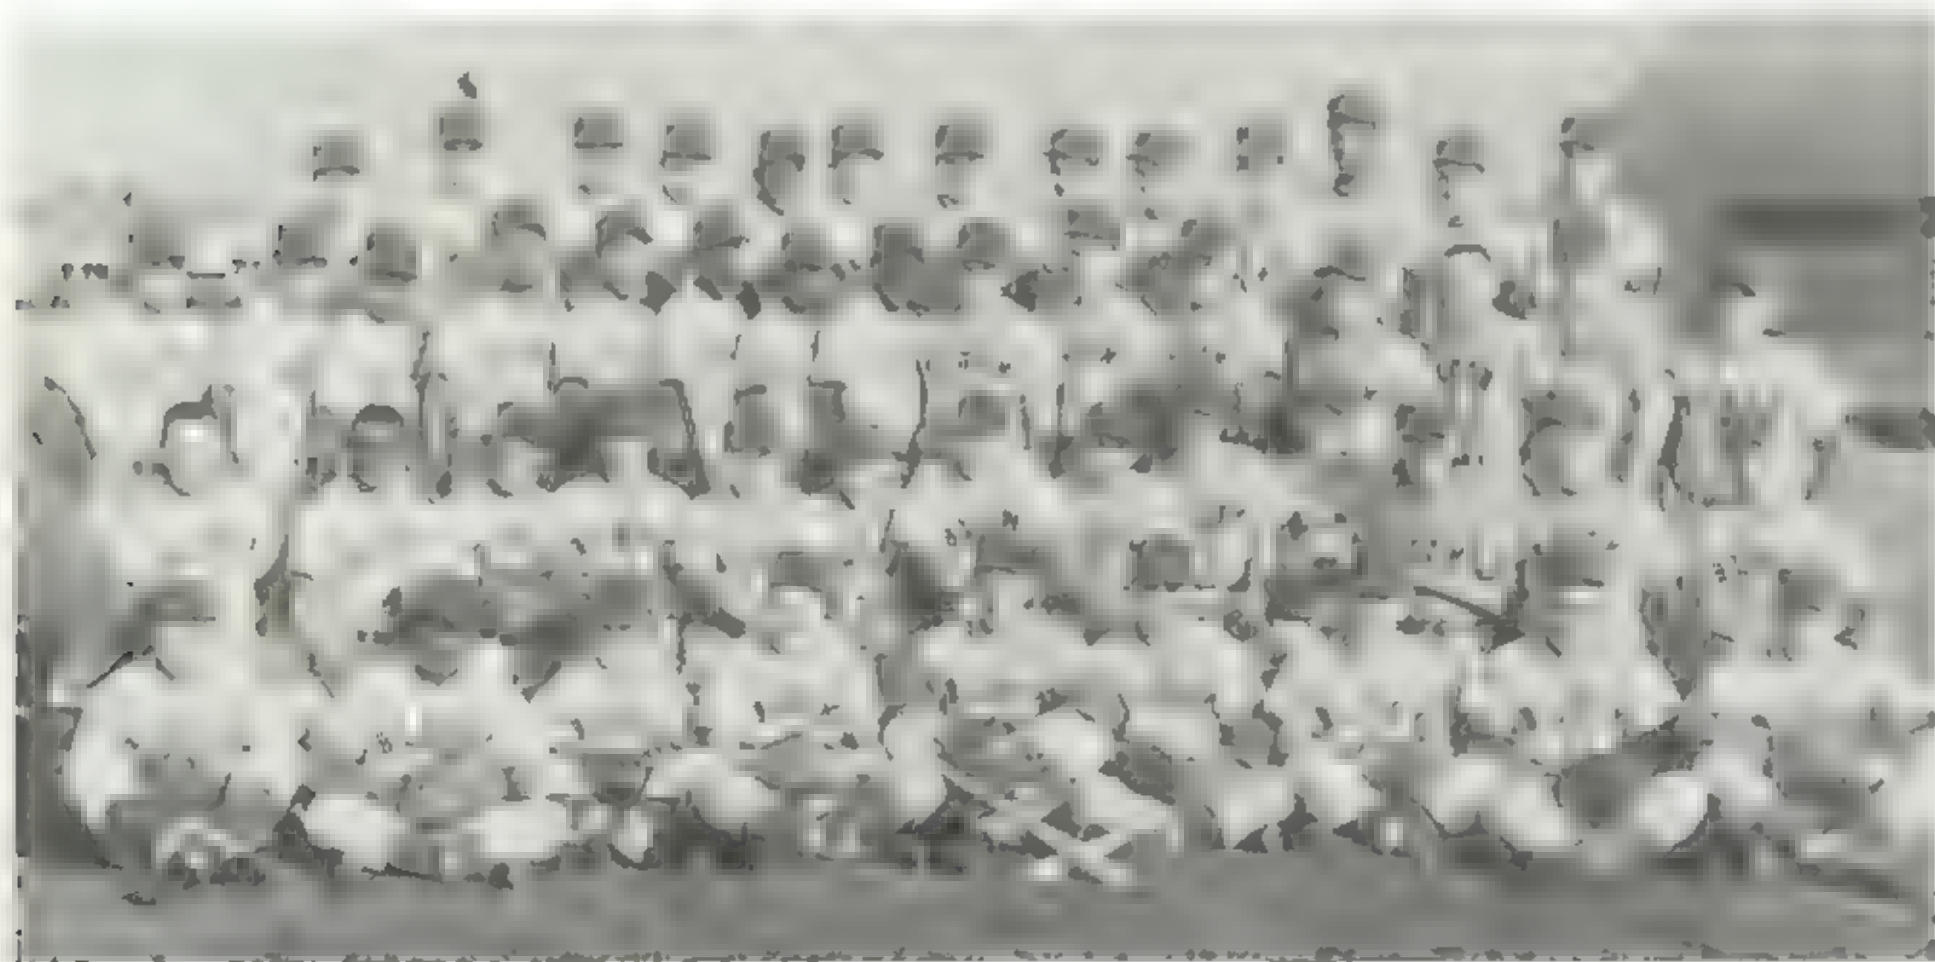

Finishing last season with a 4-8 record, the Trojans will make an all-out effort to improve upon it this season. Graduation took its share of last year's team, leaving the '61 squad with three returning regulars, Al Sher, Rich Tosi, and Bruce Green.

Moving up from the frosh-soph ranks are fielders, Bob Strong, Ray LaPorte, Fred Lorenzatti, and Jerry Lolli, and pitchers Jim Brown and Bill Swartz.

Bill Swartz, pitcher, demonstrates the delivery that enabled him to compile a 4-1 record as a sophomore player.

Compiling an overall 7-2 record, the frosh-soph Trojans played good ball all season long being edged 1-0 by Thornton and 5-4 by Joliet for their only losses.

Coached by Paul Cosenza, the top batsmen were Walt Tiberi, Bob Arme, and Frank Martello. Ray LaPorte, Jerry Lolli, Fred Lorenzatti, and Bob Strong were regulars who improved with the season. Pitchers Bill Swartz, who had a 4-1 record at the mound, and Jimmy Brown, another strong hurler, kept the opponents' runs to a minimum. This is shown by the 45-18 figure, the Trojans' run total compared to their opponents'.

Anxious to match last year's squad, the '61 team is confident of a successful season.

South Suburban League Bloom 3rd place

The fresh soph Trojan track team, understudy of a strong varsity, was victorious in all its dual meets of the outdoor season.

After dropping such perennial powers as Wendell Phillips and rival Thornton, the tracksters placed third in the South Suburban League meet, partly because of the loss of Maurice Myers and Jim Wilson to the varsity squad.

Last year's trackmen, after an unprecedented fourth straight state track championship by Trojan squads, finished fifth at the state meet, succumbing to champion Moline in a driving rainstorm with wind gusts up to 40 miles an hour.

Led by co-captains Tom Biel and Jim Wilson the returning regulars are Robin Hamilton, Ed Moore, Maurice Meyers, Richard Hicks, Dennis Hummel, Willie Collins, Ron Peyser, Carl Johnson, and Keith Appleberry.

Under Coach Ralph Steben's guidance, these boys, supplemented by up-coming frosh-soph talent, could put Bloom on top once again.

This year, partially due to a cut in the interscholastic program an extensive intramural schedule was provided for all students.

Fall sports included football, crosscountry, and intersquad track. During the winter months basketball, table tennis, swimming, gymnastics, and wrestling tournaments took place. With the coming of spring, tennis, softball, and golf were offered.

This year's program was successful. Its success was due to the athletic director Mr. Frank Buchtel, and the following intramural coaches: Mr. Edmond Krumm, Mr. Donald Lindell, Mr. Donald Potter, Mr. Merle Zeschke, Mr. Thomas Deem, Mr. J. D. Sarver, Mr. Ralph Steben, Mr. George Sheperd, and Mr. Robert Rehberg. Though a full athletic program has been restored at Bloom, the intramural activities will be continued in order for all students to be active in athletics at Bloom.

GAA volleyball, basketball, tennis, and swimming all help point to a more rounded way of life for girls who enjoy sports. This variety of athletic activities is open to all girls who wish to participate.

Most of them take place after school, but the GAA also sponsors play days with other schools, special holiday parties, and teas.

Planning for such a variety of sports that appeal to the majority of the girls are the officers and governing board. The staff is made up of girls selected from each class on the basis of interest and participation.

In the spring of each year the GAA officers are elected during all-school elections. The officers head the board, and together they plan the year's activities.

Enthusiastic Squads Cheer Bloom

"We're from Bloom!" is the incessant cry of the varsity and frosh-soph cheerleaders. These twelve girls, with vim, vigor, and vitality, lead the cheering for our Trojan teams. At almost every type of game they can be seen encouraging the crowds to cheer our team on to V-I-C-T-O-R-Y. The squads are ably directed by their sponsors Miss Judith Connolly and Miss Nancy Bailey.

Here is the FACULTY. . . the driving force behind all Bloom students. Not only do they give us a sound education, but they also help us to lay the foundation for better citizenship. Through their help and guidance our decisions are made easier, and our choices are improved.

Thus the faculty helps to point out the right path to our future goals.

FACULTY

Administration Serves Bloom Youth

The seven members of the Bloom Township High School and Community College Board of Education devote many hours of service to Bloom youth. This year their burden was particularly heavy because of the defeat of tax referendums which made it necessary to curtail certain phases of the school program.

The Board was further handicapped when Mr. Spencer Blim was transferred by his company to another locality. Fortunately, however, Mr. Blair Peterson, an experienced former board member, was appointed to complete Mr. Blim's term.

During the year steps were taken to organize a Consulting Committee to help in the formation of policy.

The P. T. A. develops between the public and educators such united efforts as will secure for every student the best advantages in physical and mental education.

This organization strives for greater cooperation between home and school through its meetings, a tea for freshman parents, and annual open houses.

This year the P. T. A. sponsored a monthly Record Hop for the students.

The Bloom PTA (left) is composed of interested Bloom parents who work in coordination with the faculty to formulate PTA policies.
